CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Too little attention is paid to the constitutional amendment which we will vote upon in November. Experience has revealed facts in taxation, just as it does in other things. It has shown that Tennessee taxes some things too much and other things too little. It shows that some things have been run out of the State by illadvised taxation; and other things are kept out of the State by the same process.

Tennessee needs more capital to develop her resources, and she is not getting it as rapidly as she should. She does not get it because the basis of her tax laws is wrong. People do not bring or send their capita here; because they are offered more reasonable treatment in the vital matter of taxation in other states.

Our legislators would remedy this situation if they could, but they cannot. Their hands are tied by a clause placed in our Constitution in 1834. That clause does not limit the amount of taxes they may levy; but it does prevent them from adjusting the taxes in a sensible way, making them easier to be borne by the people; yet providing such revenue as the State might reasonably need.

The proposed amendment does not impose a new tax, grant a new exemption, or give the legislature power to levy higher taxes than it is levying to day. But it does give the legislature power to adjust the tax levy to present day conditions; to use sound judgement and discretion in allotting the sources from which revenue shall come.

The people will find it on the ballot in November. They should vote for it.

Pay no attention to what the Nashville Banner says, but go ahead and vote for the Democratic nominees. Stahlman is only looking out for No. 1, and cares nothing about the welfare of the people of the state. Democrats are warned to watchout for the 11th hour trickery that is being put out by the big Republican bosses

VOTERS, VOTE.

Gov. James M. Cox in his speech at Jackson, Tenn., Oct. 28th, in behalf of the Democratic ticket, praised Tennessee's Democratic members of congress and those who are candidates on the Democratic ticket this year, because of their records and their capabilities.

"Something must be done in this state to arouse the apathy and to make certain the return to congress of that stalwart statesman, Cordell Hull. He is more than a figure in his own district," said Mr. Cox.

We must bear in mind that a hard fight is being made to defeat Judge Hull, and every Democrat should appoint himself a committee of one to see that every democrat vote is polled in his district. Get the women to the polls.

VOTE THE TICKET.

All Democrats should go to the polls on November 7th and vote her straight. This is time for all good men to come to the aid of the party. The democrtic ticket is:

For Govenor, Austin Peay,
For Congress, Cordell Hull,
For U. S. Senator, K. D. McKellar.

Rail Road Commissioner, Porter Dunlap

Stare Senator, W. A. Overton.
Representative, O. G. Fox

J. E. Gailbreath, of Cookeville, was in town first of the week.

L. G. Strode was in Cookeville, Monday on business.

Judge J. M. Gardenhire

INSOLVENT NOTICE

To the creditors of Major Flynn Deceased, by order of the Clerk of the County Court of Jackson County, Tennessee, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against the estate of Major Flynn Deceased to appear and file the same with the Clerk of said Court, authenticated in the manner prescribed by law, on or before the first day of March next, the insolvency of said estate having been suggested, any claim not filed on or before said date, will be forever barred both in law and equity.
This Oct. 27th, 1922.
Jennie Flynn Admrx of Major Flynn Deceased.

George West, who has been in California for the past 14 months, returned home one day last week. He reports that a good many of the Jackson County boys have drifted into Huntington Beach, where some new oil wells have recently been opened.

Mrs. L. G. Strode entertained with a party Friday night to compliment her Sunday School class. The evening was spent in games of various kinds, and at late hour, delightful refreshments were served. Those present were: Margaret Haile, Sallie Keen Gist, Amarda Fame Brown, Ruth Young, Nannie Young, Allene Brooks, Floy Johnson, Mattie Dixon, Thelma Draper, Rosamond Lynch; Sam Taylor Brown, James Montgomery, William Colonel Anderson, Jack Smith, Booster Vernon, Cordell Brooks, Ray Anderson, Leon Anderson, Roy McCawley, Ray Tardy.

F. L. Haile Circuit court clerk, has been busy the past week preparing his dockets for the November term of criminal court, which will convene next Monday. The docket shows 50 misdemeanors, 5 felons, 5 boundovers, and two murder cases for this term. The court will probably be in session for more than a week. The case of the state against Henry Young for the killing of prohibition officer, H. J. Lynch last July, will be tried at this term, and is expected to create a wide interest in this and adjoining counties. The case of the state versus Hillman Anderson, charged with the killing of a Mr. Lane, is expected to be called for trial at this term.
